INDUSTRIAL DISPUTE NO. 39 OF 1961

(In the matter of the dispute between the employers in relation to the Co-operative Fire and General Insurance Society Limited, Madras, and their workmen).

BETWEEN

The President, Co-operative Fire and General Insurance Employees Union, 12-13, Angappa Naicken Street, Madras-1.

AND

The Secretary, Co-operative Fire and General Insurance Society Ltd., 379, Netaji Subash Chandra Bose Road, Madras-1.

Reference.—No. 70(9)/61-LRIV, dated 12th September, 1961, Government of India Ministry of Labour and Employment, New Delhi.

Issues.—Whether the terms and conditions of service of the workmen in the Co-operative Fire and General Insurance Society Limited, Madras, in respect of the following matters call for any improvement and, if so, to what extent:—

- (1) Scales of pay,
- (2) Dearness Allowance,
- (3) House Rent Allowance, and
- (4) Gratuity.

This dispute coming on for hearing this day, upon perusing the reference, claim and counter-statements, and all other papers material to this dispute, and upon hearing the arguments of S. P. J. Setharaman, Advocate, for the Union, and of Sri S. Mohan, Advocate, for the management, the Tribunal passed the following

AWARD

The management concerned in this reference is the Co-operative Fire and General Insurance Society Limited, Madras, and the dispute relates to certain matters in controversy between the parties, included by the union in its letter of demand dated 15th December, 1959. These items were not settled between the parties, while the other items comprised in the letter of demand were settled. This reference is made by the Government of India in regard to those items of demand left unsettled, namely, (1) Scales of pay, (2) dearness allowance, (3) house rent allowance, and (4) gratuity.

2. This Society is unique in the sense that it is the only Co-operative Insurance Society in our State. It has got its Head Office in Madras with branches in Madurai, Tirunelveli, Salem, Eluru, Vijayawada, and Harihar. This being an insurance company, not engaged in any industry, it has no workers or operatives, and its employees are mostly members of the clerical staff. It is admitted that in the Madras City Office there are 47 members belonging to the clerical staff or sub-staff, and in the 6 branches outside the city there are 15 members. And so, the present dispute relates to these 62 members of the clerical staff and sub-staff. The total yearly emoluments paid to these employees at the present time is about Rs. 97,000 or about Rs. 8,000 per month.

3. The first of the items in dispute in this reference relates to the scales of pay. The existing scales of pay are set out by the management in the appendix to the counter statement, marked as Ex. M-3. These scales were brought into force in the year 1956, and though the employees have been receiving these scales during the last 5 years, the contention of the learned counsel Sri Setharaman appearing for the union is that the wage structure was then introduced without their concurrence and that they had no option but to accept it though even according to the standards then prevailing the wage scales were inadequate. Sri Mohan, the learned counsel for the management, contended that having regard to the standards then prevailing and the then cost of living, the wages fixed were reasonable and adequate. He also contended that the union has not made out a case for the revision of the wage structure fixed in the year 1956.

4. The learned counsel Sri Mohan also drew my attention to certain handicaps which an insurance society has to suffer by reason of certain restrictive provisions of the Insurance Act and the rules framed thereunder in regard to the limits prescribed for expenditure under the head of "expenses of management", particularly to Section 40-C of the Act and rule 17-E of the Rules. He contended that the wages to be paid to these employees would fall under this head of expenditure and therefore the management has no unfettered discretion to increase the wage levels of the members of the clerical staff.

5. But still, it will be seen that the wages payable to the members of the staff do not exhaust all the items that would fall under that head of expenditure, for, while the annual expenditure under the head of wages paid to the employees could be about Rs. 97,000, the total expenditure incurred under the head of "management expenses" during the year 1960, was 2.80 lakhs, as will be seen from Ex. M-1. It will also be seen from that document that the gross premium income during that period was 7.76 lakhs, and under the statutory interdiction the limit of expenditure would be 3.88 lakhs. Within the limits of that figure, there will be open to the management to so adjust the items of expenditure that these employees are paid adequately, and after all what they are paid is only the minimum basic wage. It is not the contention that the management has transcended that stage and is now paying anything like a fair wage or a living wage. Inasmuch as it is required to pay in this reference only the minimum basic wage, the question of capacity to pay is not material.

6. These and other considerations were discussed with the learned counsel on both sides, as also the standards of wages prevailing in other companies in the Madras city such as the Co-operative Bank, Handloom Co-operative Society and other companies. And as a result, both sides found it possible to agree on the following scales of pay for the various categories employed in this Society:

(1) Heads of Reinsurance, Accident, Marine and Motor Sections, Assistant Accountant and the Assistant Cashier: These employees are now grouped together and put on the same scales of pay. Sri Seetharaman contended that they should be put on a par with the Head of the Fire Section, whose existing scale of wages is higher. There is only one employee who is the present Head of the Fire Section, and as he is drawing a salary at a fairly high level, it is unnecessary to prescribe any scales of wages for that single individual, and his case may best be left to the union to be settled by negotiation with the management. As regards the other employees, namely, heads of Reinsurance, Accident, Marine and Motor Sections, as also the Assistant Accountant and Assistant Cashier, the present scale is 75—7½—150. It is agreed that this scale be retained and into it be incorporated a continuing scale for a period of another 10 years so as to make provision for a total service of 20 years, that is to say, the revised scale will be —7½—150—E.B.—10—250.

(2) Clerks: The present scale is 60—5—135. It is agreed that this scale also could be revised so as to provide for increments for 20 years. And so, the scale for the clerks will be 65—5—120—E.B.—7½—150—10—200. The Typists will be classified under this category and put on the same scales, and they will continue to draw the Typewriting allowance which they get at present.

(3) Attenders: The existing pay is 40—1½—60. This scale also has to be revised so as to provide increments for 20 years service. And so, it was agreed that the scale for the Attenders should be 40—1½—55—2—75.

(4) Peons and Watchmen: Their present scale is 30—1½—55. It is agreed that this scale also should be revised so as to provide for 20 years service. And so, the scales of wages for these categories of workmen will be 30—1½—45—2—65.

(5) Driver: There is only one driver who is now drawing Rs. 60/- on the scale of 50—2—90. It is agreed that the revised scale should be 50—2—70—3—90.

7. It is also agreed that the revised scales will be brought into force with effect from 1st July 1961. The existing employees will be fitted into that scale on that date, and if the present wage of any employee does not exactly fit into that scale, he will be put on the next higher scale. It is further agreed that the next increment for all the employees will accrue and become payable as on 1st January 1962.

8. Issue 4—This issue relates to Gratuity, and on this the management has proposed the introduction of a scheme as set out in paragraph 10 of the counter statement. Sri Seetharaman appearing for the union accepts that scheme. But certain minor alterations are necessary to clarify that scheme. With that modification, it is agreed on both sides that the scheme of gratuity will be as follows

(1) When any member of the staff leaves the service or his services are terminated by the Society within 3 years from the date of his permanent appointment he shall have no claim to the benefit of this fund.

(2) On the cessation of a member's service in the Society between 3 to 5 years, the Society shall pay to him or to his widow or his children or his legal representatives an amount calculated to half-a-month's pay for every year of service in the Society.

(3) On the cessation of a member's service in the Society after 5 years, the Society shall pay to him or his widow or his children or his legal representative an amount equal to one month's pay for every year of service in the Society.

(4) The maximum amount payable to any employee shall not exceed 12 months' pay under any circumstances.

(5) Pay means average monthly basic wages drawn during the last year of the employee's service.

(6) This scheme will come into force from 1st July, 1961.

9. Issue 3.—This issue relates to House Rent Allowance. It will be seen that the existing rates are more or less the same as those paid by the Co-operative Bank. Sri Seetharaman for the Union realises that he cannot ask for anything more; and so, he represents that this demand is not pressed for the present.

10. Issue 2.—The only issue that remains to be considered is Dearness Allowance. The existing scale of dearness allowance is not linked to the cost of living index. In regard to the employees drawing above Rs. 100 the rate is 17½ per cent plus a small fixed amount, and in regard to people getting below Rs. 100/- is a flat rate ranging from Rs. 21 to 24/- according to the salary. The result is that employees at the top will get more, for example the Secretary, whose pay I am told, is Rs. 1,000/- would get by way of dearness allowance a sum of Rs. 175/-, which works out about 46 nP. per point, whereas people at the bottom level would get at the rate of about 11 nP. per point. The disparity, which is so great, is by itself a sufficient condemnation of the scheme. The proper scheme will be one which should be uniform, and linked to the cost of living index. Drastic interference with the existing scheme is not possible in this reference because Sri Seetharaman who appears for the union does not represent the employees who draw above Rs. 300/-. So that, it is not possible to interfere with the scheme in regard to the employees drawing salary of above Rs. 300/- and that part of the scheme will have to be maintained. That being so, it will not be proper or appropriate to interfere only with the other part of the scheme in relation to the employees drawing less than Rs. 300/-. I therefore, after considerable discussion with the learned counsel on both sides, felt that the scheme of dearness allowance might be left as it is, but at the same time at the bottom levels the rate of dearness allowance might be increased. At the bottom levels that an employee at the bottom-most level would now be getting, namely, Rs. 39/- or about 11 nP. per point, is much too low. I therefore suggested to the learned counsel on both sides that a minimum dearness allowance may be fixed, otherwise leaving the present scheme as it is. That means, if any employee is already paid more than the minimum that is to be fixed, he will continue to draw that allowance, and those who are getting less than that minimum will draw at least that minimum. The question was therefore debated as to what should be the minimum in the circumstances of this Society. Suggestions were made by Sri Seetharaman that the minimum should be at least Rs. 65/-, which he toned down to Rs. 55/- in the course of the discussion, and he maintained that in any circumstance this minimum should be uniformly applied to all categories of employees. The learned counsel for the management also realised the reasonableness of fixing a minimum. But the management was not prepared to suggest anything, which would be reasonable. I had considerable discussion about the fixation of the minimum with the learned counsel on both sides, and also referred to the awards in some companies, such as Hercules Insurance Company, and The Hindu Office; and taking into consideration those circumstances and the financial position of this company as disclosed in the statement Ex. M-1 and the balance sheet and the profit and loss account (Ex. W-1) for the year ended 31st December 1960, I am of the opinion that the minimum in this case might be fixed at Rs. 51/-. Sri Seetharaman for the union represents that this minimum is low, but even this minimum of Rs. 51/- means an additional burden of about Rs. 7,000/- per year. There is also the fact that the management has to bear the additional burden, the extent of which it is not possible to assess exactly at present, of the revised scales of wages which have been fixed under this award.

11. The result is, the present scheme of dearness allowance will continue subject to the modification that no employee shall get less than the minimum of Rs. 51/- per month. This also will come into effect from 1st July 1961

12. There will be an award in the above terms.
